To the foregoing letter of Mr. L'Hommedieu, I will add that I have no personal knowledge of the Cement Roofing therein mentioned, but I have known Messrs. As the sun was shining cozily
One pleasant day in May,
And the cat was purring dozily,
And the dog was coiled away,
I and my little Rosalie—
(The old folks were away,
Who else, perhaj s, morosely
Had spoiled our little play)—
I and my little Rosalie,
With lots of things to say,
Sai gossipping jocosely,

Sat gossipping jocosely, And wiled the hours away, II.

But what we said so cosily,
I'm sure I cannot say,
I only know that Rosaile
Was beautiful that day:
And that while the dog so dozily
Upon the carpet lay,
And while the cat composedly
Slept all the time away,
I and my little Rosaile
Had lots of thinger

As the hours they sped away.
I and my little Rosalie,
Like children were at play;

When side by side so cloizly
We wiled the time away—
Not dozily, nor prosily,
But cozily away. IV.

For never more my Rosalie
Shall see the light of day,
Her little form lies cozily
Among the flowers of May;
The summer bees hum dozily
Above her beauteous clay;
The little dog which cezily
Upon the carpet lay,
Mourns now for little Rosalie,
And the cat has ceased to play,
While I can ne'er composedly
Recall the month of May.
And dozily and prosily,
My hours they pass away.

The Speaker's retiring room, which will be, when fluished, the most beautiful room in the whole building, is constructed en-tirely of iron. The pilasters are now being set, and the bricklayers are backing up as fast as they are placed in position.

The mechanical exactitude which is required

The mechanical exactitude which is required in fitting together the various parts of the iron finishing is far beyond that of any other branch of the work. The ornamental sash lights in the ceiling of the new hall will be a sight to inspire admiration of the most indifferent observer. The beautiful designs in colored glass, representing in each light the arms of one of the the Union, are soon to be set and will not fail to create astonishment and delight. All the rooms surrounding the hall of the House are being pushed forward towards completion with commendable dispatch. The painting, plastering, fres-coing, and all the various branches of the interior work are in a state of advancement.

In the statuary department the work goes bravely on. The large piece nearly finished by Gagliardi, representing "America," is worth a visit; and near by, in the same room, the "Indian Mother," is nearly completed by the same artist. In an adjoining room the "Woodman" from a new design by Crawford, is just begun. This piece represents the pioneer American felling an enormous tree, while at its foot a poisonous snake with unlifted head and fance distended, watches souls. The vast amphitheater was filed to overwith uplifted head and fangs distended, watches with devilish hate the sturdy forrester who has disturbed his domicile. In regard to the Treasurer. There is no law directing him how or where he shall keep the funds of the State. He receives all kinds of bank currency, and is liable for any depreciation upon it that may occur while it is in his posses sion. He is, also, liable for the safe keeping of almost every remedy, and the regimen of several almost every remedy, and the regimen of several the public funds from the time they are received, until they are disbursed. The entire responsibility is placed upon him. It has been the custom, sanctioned by long usage, for the Treasurers to deposit the public funds with such banking in stitutions as they may deem secure, for which they have received compensation. Probably, too, they have been accustomed to loan it to individuals upon satisfactory security, to be returned when needed. This transfers the liability for any depreciation upon the currency they have received, and also for its safe keeping, into other hands. This usage and transfer of responsibility for the safe keeping and integrity of the public funds, we do not deem censurable under our present treasury system. THIS Balsam is beyond all doubt the most pleasant and efficacious remedy ever discovered for all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs. It has been thoroughly tested and all who have used it, the best remedy now offered to the public for Pulmonary Complaints.

Too much care and attention cannot be given to diseases of the lungs. Reader, have you a cold, cough, or any disease of the Lungs? Do not neglect it. Millions of the old and the young, the fashionable and the gay, are annually consigned to a premature grave by neglecting to attend to a common cold. Colds and Coughs lead to consumption and if not removed by a proper remedy then to an early death. Be advised in time. Procure at once the celebrated remedy—Dr. Carter's Cough Balsam—which has cured thousand upon thousands after physicians, and all noted remedies had failed, and the patient had been given up by friends to die.

In connection with their repeated financial de linquencies, we copy in full the remarks of the Cincinnati Gazette, of yesterday:

The Money market under the influence of The discount houses are doing but litthe-not discounting, perhaps to the extent of fortify themselves, and they are consequently, now very strong. Business classes have, in the meantime, been learning to do without bank ac-commodations, and there is now but little paper, aparatively, offering, and not much demand for The result will be a sudden improvement in a steady improvement in this respect in the event of no farther serious failures in New York.

It is pleasant to notice the stability exhibited throughout the West, under the shocks that so confidence that is manifested in the general ability of the business classes to maintain their ability of the business classes to maintain ex-credit. So far there has been no bank failure, or mercantile failure of importance in the West since the suspension of the Trust Company.

M. and 10 P. M.

Our advices with regard to the Kentucky and Indiana Banks are not equally reliable; but we have no doubt their condition is fully as favorable as that of the Ohio Banks. It may be, however, day morning that the Banks while strengthening themselves will unnecessarily weaken and embarrass their customers. It is well that the former should fortify themselves; but we do not think there is any good reason for too sudden or an undue contra-tion. As remarked heretofore, the surplus are the best possible basis for a banking business Wheat, Oats, Barley, &c., are as good as gold, and when shipped and drawn against answer the purpose of coin. But there must be currency with which to move the crops, and this must b supplied by the banks. Stop this supply and shipments cease, thus prolonging the difficulties that farmers are now endeavoring to remove. Let the surplus crops be moved forward as rapidly as possible, and farmers, banks and merchants will very soon be surrounded by a clear and bracing financial atmosphere.

The following Banks are uncurrent at our Banking institutions:

Ohio Trust Company. The Ohio State Banks which did business with the Trust Company, New York, have made arrangements to have their drafts upon that agency paid.

O'NIELL & COFFIN, CORNER OF MERIDIAN AND MARYLAND STREETS .- A splendid addition has recently been made to the stock of these gentlemen. At their establishment the most extensive and most choice articles of family groceries are of fered. Among other things, a supply of the finest mackrel, No. 1's, No. 2's and No. 3's, have arrived. Messrs. O'Neill & Coffin, in short, furnish the public with every article in their line pure, fresh and at the very lowest retail prices. They constantly replenish and are at all times ready to meet the demands of their patrons who draw upon them with the cash.

For the Sentinel. A Slight Mistake Correcte Editors of State Sentinel-

Editors of State Sentine—
GENTS.:—In your paper of to day appears article in relation to the late movements of citizens, which had for their object the gene improvement of Indianapolis by the encouragement of honest, industrious mechanics; the four ing of Manufactories and the establishment wholesale stores. These are all western which wholesale stores. These are all worthy object Upon this subject we are all agreed. There is a discordant notes among us. In pursuance of th movement, another Wholesale Dry Goods Hou has, you inform us, been established; but inste of encouraging home manufactures by purch-ing their Blank Books, as they should have dor at some one or more of our binderies, they have purchased an inferior article made by Eastern Houses, to the amount of $100. As the appraiser of those books (one of the binders of our city, is presumed) is an excellent judge, as well as a good manufacturer of Blank Books, the estimate which he puts upon them must, of necessity, be correct. There can be no doubt about it. But correct. There can be no doubt about it. But then he makes one grand mistake. He has taken the price of his own manufactured books as the standard by which to judge of the value of those books made, as he alleges, by Eastern Houses. By this standard the blank books are, unquestionably, worth $100. There can be no doubt about it. An excellect book binder has said it and it must be so. Now it so happens that these same books, valued at $100, were sold by us to the Wholesale Dry Goods House referred to, for less than one half of that sum. This one fact proves than one half of that sum. This one fact proves more conclusively than all the speeches which have been made and all the circulars that have been disseminated through the land, that a great necessity exists at the present time for the introduction into our midst of more manufacturing es Yours truly, WERDEN & CHAMBERLAIN.

Our correspondents, in the above, fall into "a slight mistake." The blank books, stationery 4.005 27 and binding of Eastern manufacture, were what we and not a "binder of our city" estimated at $100. If the work was Eastern work and sold for less, we have not the least doubt in the world 20,747 13 that it was worth less. However, the materia fact alleged by us is admitted. Home Manufactures were not "encouraged" in this the very first chance to encourage them in an event resulting from the late movements of the Board of Trade and the "Business men of Indianapolis."

ELOQUENT SPEECH.—Company B. of a neighboring town recently elected a Corporal. The ANOTHER BANK SUSPENSION .- The Newark election was very close, the victorious candidate Advocate states that Franklin & Son, Bankers in only receiving three majority. self-Feeding and Discharging Hominy Mill. PATENTED JUNE 2, 1857.

PATENTED JUNE 2, 1857.

THIS MILL is offered to the public as the only continuous self-feeding and discharging Hominy Mill in use. It is emphatically a HULLING machine (not crushing) and feeds, hulls, cleans, and discharges the grain in the most perfect manner by its own operation, the grain being fed into the mill by the ordinary hopper and shoe; similar to feeding bur stones, and requiring about the same attention in running it. It takes but little power, there being but a small quantity of grain in the mill at a time, and the speed being only about 600 revolutions per minute. It will make from 50 to 75 banbels of HOMINY, ready for market, per day (10 hours.)

This mill has been thoroughly tested during the past season, and will do just what we represent. For proof which, call and see it in operation at the Portable Grain Mill (old City Foundry,) where we will be happy to explain and exhibit it.

Machinists will do well to examine this mill, as it is a leable article, and being so much superior to any other lominy Mill, it may be said really to have no competition.
Orders should be sent in immediately, to secure a mill for his season's operations.
